STORY OF WELL KNOWN MAN TOLD

L. J. Stiner Talks of the Speedy Relief He Received Through Tanlac.

Anderson, Ind., May 18.—Levi J. Stiner, a well known employee of the Hill Standard Manufacturing Co., who lives at 2150 Park avenue, Anderson, recently said regarding his experiences with Tanlac, the Master Medicine:

"Stomach trouble caused me great annoyance and trouble for a long time. My food would not digest properly causing constipation of the worst kind. My kidneys, also, were irregular. I felt badly all through the day and was unable to sleep with any degree of satisfaction at night.

"I began improving almost from the first few doses of Tanlac. I have been taking the medicine a short time now, and I feel like a different man. My appetite has improved, gas has disappeared from my stomach, and I sleep through the night as peacefully as a child."

Tanlac, the master medicine, which made a new man of Mr. Stiner, is being taken with equally beneficial results by thousands of Indiana people. Tanlac is excellent for stomach liver and kidney troubles, loss of appetite, insomnia, coughs, colds, catarrhal complaints and is a general tonic and system purifier.

Tanlac is sold exclusively in Mishawaka at the Red Cross Pharmacy.

George Dayhuff Brought Girl
From Michigan as His Wife.

George Dayhuff, charged with wife and child desertion, was arraigned before Judge Feig in police court Friday afternoon to answer to the charge. Dayhuff was arrested by Detectives Weaver and Montine, late Thursday night.

Mrs. Dayhuff charges that her husband has not only failed to support her but that he has been living with another woman in various cities as man and wife. This girl whose home is in Niles was seen at the Dayhuff home by officers Wednesday night but when they went back Thursday night she had fled.

Evidence shows that Dayhuff took the girl with him from Niles to LaPorte, Indianapolis, and various other cities where they posed as man and wife. Police are making efforts to trace the girl who is reported to be with an aunt in South Bend. Her name is Ethyle Weather-spoon, and she is but 16 years old, according to the officers.

DAYLIGHT ROBBERS
SECURE SMALL LOOT

One Captured in Chase by Mob—Other Makes Getaway.

Jack Weisweaver and an unknown accomplice held up the Abraham Pinner store, 225 Smith st., Friday noon, frightened the youth left in charge and got away with a small quantity of stuff.

When the robbers left the store the lad notified neighbors who took up the chase, getting Weisweaver after a run of about four blocks. Weisweaver turned on his pursuers and began hacking them with a big pocket knife, inflicting minor injuries on two of them and himself being badly beaten by the crowd.

Weisweaver's accomplice fled down the Lake Shore tracks and Officers Turbush and Gerard led the chase for him but he escaped. He is described as being a hobo, tall and dark complexioned, wearing a dark suit. He was last seen headed for South Bend.

Weisweaver was arrested by Officer Beeher and claimed that he did not know the name of his pal, having only met him during the course of a drinking bout. He says that the man is innocent.

Joe Krillenberg and Edward Demogay, a Belgian, were the victims of Weisweaver's knife. Krillenberg receiving a slight cut on the neck while the Belgian was cut two or three times on each arm. The cuts were not serious, both men being able to get home alone.

Weisweaver has a police record, having served one term in the penitentiary and having been convicted of many minor offenses both here and in surrounding towns. His face was badly scarred and cut, which he claims comes from being hit in the face by rocks in the hands of his captors after he had been thrown to the ground.

BICEPS BEFORE BRAIN,
ADMONITION TO GIRLS

Dean of Women Tells Co-Eds to Shun Men Who Don't Go in For Athletics.

International News Service:
CHICAGO, May 19.—"Biceps before brains!"

Several hundred Northwestern university co-eds were mulling over this cryptic admonition today. It was given them by Mary Rosa Potter, dean of women, in speaking at a banquet of the Woman's Athletic association.

"No girl should be seen on the campus with a gentleman who does not go in for athletics," said Dean Potter. "Also girls should cultivate the friendship of other women students rather than men. There is not much lasting value to the friendship of men formed in college. Take part in athletics, get biceps before brains, and attain gracefulness and poise, for they are a woman's chief asset."
